This is for all people in everywhere. Nobody is satisfied from one's present in everything. Drug is just a gun for one's heart.

Sir~ I'm Woo kyung.. This advertisement is so realistic. This is needed in various places. You can easily find 'no drug' advertisements on walls in subway. You can also see the advertisements in many magazines and TV. There is the copy below this line.

{You are feeling from the drug now? The feeling is now shooting for your heart. Because of the drug, your honor , beloved ones and your valuable future are fading out little by little..

Drug...will take your honor, beloved surroundings and valuable future..}

The people in the picture are the drug abuser who so famous entertainers in Korea. They lost their important things...
